A Gospel-Shaped Community

Sermon Series : 1 Corinthians
 Scripture : 1 Corinthians 8:1-13
 Preacher : Rev. Michael Shen
 Sermon : Food Offered to Idols

Introduction: Christians in Singapore and elsewhere may face a similar challenge like believers in Corinth: Should we eat food offered to idols or ancestors?

From the Apostle Paul we learn: Our decision is guided not by the knowledge we think we have, but by our conscience (1 Cor 8:1-13). We are taught by the Word of God, and guided by the Holy Spirit. Thus, we learn to heed our conscience and check ourselves:

1. Is my attitude unloving? (1 Cor 8:1-3)

2. Is my knowledge deficient? (1 Cor 8:4-7a)

3. Is my action harmful? (1 Cor 8:7b-13)

Reflect & Apply

- Do I reject all forms of idolatry, the exchange of God my Creator and his truth for things in creation—idols, indulgence in pleasures and possessions, and an unbiblical ideology like Communism?
- Do I relate to my loved ones, fellow-Christians and neighbours with truth and love in Christ?
- Do I promptly heed my conscience which is guided by God's word and enlightened by the Holy Spirit?
